

07-26-1985-p.3

to it, as satisfactory or as thrilling, as gathering the vegetables one has grown." True. The pleasure of so doing is sublime.

Given my new living space/Habitat, I have decided to yet again force myself to "tidy up my act," as it were. As a result, all of the boxes and paper and "to be processed" materials have been put away -- largely behind the "Habitat" but also behind the "North Wall" that I constructed/established.

7 P.M. - picked and ate 25 summer peas ^{pods} -- about 7 peas per pod; incredibly fresh flavor which carries me back many many years.

Having constructed a new "living space" here at Elkhart, I once again have the sensation of having just moved in to the Church. No feeling in, in some respects, comparable to that of re-discovering an old friend. Having constructed such a winter-worthy structure, I am, naturally, curious to put it to the test, although I am certainly not in any hurry for summer to end -- certainly not.

John and I worked so well together and so quickly that I almost have no "sensation" of having built this living space. No moment it did not exist, and the next moment it did. I am especially pleased by the Cube's compactness, efficiency, strength, shape, utilitarianism, adaptability. Everyone should have one.

07-27-1985-p.1

developed by DWP for SKP
Roll #10 - Black & White film

07-07-1985 -- 07-14-1985

these 7 photographs taken by DWP 1-7 - Independence Day Ceremonies in Maplewood Cemetery, Carbondale --
July 4, 1985

8-9-10 - "Tinker"
Donna & Holly in Elkhart Creek -- afternoon of July 4-1985

11 - the C&S&M boat at Montage -- 7-7-1985 (wherein we moved after our first disastrous location)

12-13-14-15-16-17 - Marywood Jazz Ensemble
concert in Memorial Park, Carbondale (sponsored by Lackawanna County Commission &
C&S&M, Inc.) - 7-14-1985

18-19 - Clinton Center Baptist Church -- painting by Alice Curtis Lund these 2 photographs by DWP; taken on 7-14-1985